

Access to Free E-Journals

Library Tip 11
December 20, 2004

Author
VALNET Library Advisory Council

The following list of websites offer valuable access to free resources. This listing was gathered from e-mail messages during the past year. While these sites can be used to locate free articles or journals, they are not endorsed by VALNET.

www.sciencekomm.at

Gives good access to tables of contents.

<http://www.freemedicaljournals.com/>

Informs user one journals become free-immediately, after 6 months, after 2 years, etc.

<http://medstat.med.utah.edu/uhs/c/free.html>

<http://highwire.stanford.edu/lists/freeart.dtl>

<http://www.lib.uiowa.edu/hardin/md/ej.html>

<http://www.findarticles.com>

Free article search service which retrieves non medical and medical full text journal articles.

<http://www.coreynahman.com/pharmacyjournals.html> =

<http://journals.bmn.com/journals>

<http://www.earlham.edu/~peters/fos/timeline.htm>

<http://opcit.eprints.org/archive-core-metalist.html>

<http://www.freebooks4doctors.com>

Organized by specialties

<http://www.doaj.org/>

This is a directory of scholarly, peer-reviewed free-access journals.

If your favorite site was not included or you run across others, please send them to Diana Akins. This additional information can be included in a revision of this tip at a later date.