

The Community Mental Health Initiatives (CMHI) in addition to the Transitional Residence Program offer services including:

- Homeless Outreach
- Transitional Apartment Program
- Community Residential Care Program
- Homeless Food Pantry
- Veterans Affairs Supported Housing Program (VASH)

Compensated Work Therapy (CWT) and Transitional Residence Partnership began in 1990, and have offered:

- Referral to substance abuse treatment programs
- Vocational rehabilitation services
- A residential component
- Psychosocial case management

The Residential Component

Transitional residences provide safe and sober housing. The program will help you develop your independent living skills so you can return to a productive life in the community. You will learn to balance work with treatment. A social worker and house manager are on staff in these residences to assist you in your recovery.

To be placed in one of these residences you must:

- Be without a permanent home
- Be willing to stay actively involved in your rehabilitation program
- Be willing to participate in Veterans Industries programs

The Residences

Our homes offer you a safe and comfortable place to live. A house manager lives in each home and provides support and supervision. They are even available to help you evenings, weekends, and holidays.

While there, you will follow your own treatment program. A typical day will include work or training and counseling.
