1. PURPOSE: This Veterans Health Administration (VHA) Directive provides policy for the assignment of BlackBerry® handheld units (referred to in this Directive as “Blackberry”) to VHA staff.

2. BACKGROUND

   a. VHA has approved the use of the Blackberry handheld wireless devices to maintain communications and connectivity capabilities for essential staff. However, the cost and messaging impact does not allow unlimited distribution. For the purposes of this Directive, a Blackberry is defined as a wireless, handheld device that allows secure wireless access to electronic mail, corporate data, telephone, and the Internet. It also has organizer features, and is individual-specific; the units cannot be shared or assigned to a group for use by different employees. NOTE: Staff assigned a Blackberry unit are reminded that the units are intended for official government use only.

   b. Blackberry handheld wireless devices allow Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) staff to readily communicate via e-mail when out of the office on travel or attending out-of-office meetings. The ability of VA managers to immediately respond to time-sensitive information can be significant and is critical during emergency operations to support the Continuity of Operations Plan (COOP) necessary to ensure continued government operations.

   c. Each Blackberry handheld unit creates the equivalent of five network user connections to one of VA’s Microsoft Exchange mail servers. With more than 5,000 Blackberry handholds already in use by VA employees, future growth of Blackberry usage could create a significant burden on VA’s e-mail service. The need for a Blackberry must therefore be carefully balanced against the increasing cost and impact of these devices on VA’s budget and messaging infrastructure.

3. POLICY: It is VHA policy that only senior managers and essential staff who meet the criteria specified are to be assigned a Blackberry device.

4. ACTION
