Don’t Take It Personally

Never touch a patient without first decontaminating your hands with an alcohol hand rub or antimicrobial soap. And try not to take it personally if someone reminds you when you forget.